

Patricia Morrison

Featured on the top right side of the mural, holding a turkey

Patricia Morrison was born in Kansas City, MO and studied biology at UKC. She obtained her BA in 1943 and became a laboratory biologist at a local company and, afterwards, a lab technician at the Menorah Medical Center. Eventually, she took a job at H&R Block. She enjoyed volunteering her time at the Rockhurst High School Mothers Club, the Daughters of Old Westport, and St. Ann's Catholic Church. She passed away in 2001.

Sources: University News, 24 Feb. 1941; Kansas City Star, 10 Dec. 2001.